*PRIVATE EQUITY RETURN REPRESENTS CALENDAR YEAR POOLED IRR AND IS SUBJECT TO A ONE QUARTER LAG SOURCE: FACTSET, BARCLAYS, THOMSON ONE

MARKET ENVIRONMENT

Risk assets outperformed in July as better-than-expected economic data and moderating inflation bolstered expectations around a potential economic soft landing. The U.S. economy exceeded expectations, growing 2.4% in the second quarter, amid robust consumer spending and non-residential fixed investments. At the same time, inflation cooled with the core PCE Price Index rising less than 0.2% in June, the most recent period for which data is available, marking a significant milestone in reaching the Federal Reserve's long-term annual inflation target of 2%; the Fed is looking for consecutive monthly gains below 0.2% before reversing its policy.

In equities, the S&P 500 Index trended higher last month, rising 3.2%, and within striking distance of reaching an all-time high. The Russell 2000 Index outperformed, gaining 6.1%, as regional bank stocks recovered from their March lows. Meanwhile, a weaker U.S. dollar supported non-U.S. stocks with the MSCI EAFE Index rising 3.2% and 1.7% in dollar- and local-terms, respectively. Notably, the MCSI Emerging Markets Index outperformed, returning 6.2% in July, after China pledged support to boost consumer spending and real estate amid a weaker-than-expected economic recovery; the MSCI China Index was up 10.8%, bringing year-to-date gains to 4.7%.

In fixed income, the 10-year Japanese government bond (JGB) yield rose to 61 basis points—marking the highest level since 2014—after the Bank of Japan made a surprise announcement aimed at increasing flexibility around its policy to control the yield curve and repurchase 10 JGB at a 1% yield, up from 0.5%. Notably, Japan is the largest foreign holder of U.S. government debt – representing approximately 15% of total debt owned overseas. As a result, 10-year Treasury yields rose 14 basis points, reaching 4% in July.

Elsewhere, the Bloomberg Commodity Index rose 6.3% last month. These gains were fueled by a 15.8% jump in WTI crude oil spot prices, which ended the month at $82 per barrel after waning recessionary concerns improved sentiment. In addition, a voluntary reduction in oil production by OPEC and a supply outage in Nigeria further reduced the supply glut.

Keeping in mind the dynamics of U.S. equities, we suggest investors reduce exposure to the S&P 500, while maintaining U.S. large-cap value positions. We also recommend investors increase exposure to U.S. high-yield bonds and broadly evaluate the risk-return benefit of fixed income. Lastly, we suggest holding greater levels of cash within safe-haven fixed-income exposures and encourage investors to maintain greater levels of portfolio liquidity.

DISCLAIMERS & DISCLOSURES

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Returns for pooled funds, e.g. mutual funds and collective investment trusts, are collected from third parties; they are not generally calculated by NEPC. Returns for separate accounts, with some exceptions, are calculated by NEPC. Returns are reported net of manager fees unless otherwise noted.

A "since inception" return, if reported, begins with the first full month after funding, although actual inception dates (e.g. the middle of a month) and the timing of cash flows are taken into account in Composite return calculations.

NEPC's preferred data source is the plan's custodian bank or record-keeper. If data cannot be obtained from one of the preferred data sources, data provided by investment managers may be used. Information on market indices and security characteristics is received from additional providers. While NEPC has exercised reasonable professional care in preparing this report, we cannot guarantee the accuracy of all source information contained within. In addition, some index returns displayed in this report or used in calculation of a policy index, allocation index or other custom benchmark may be preliminary and subject to change.

All investments carry some level of risk. Diversification and other asset allocation techniques are not guaranteed to ensure profit or protect against losses.

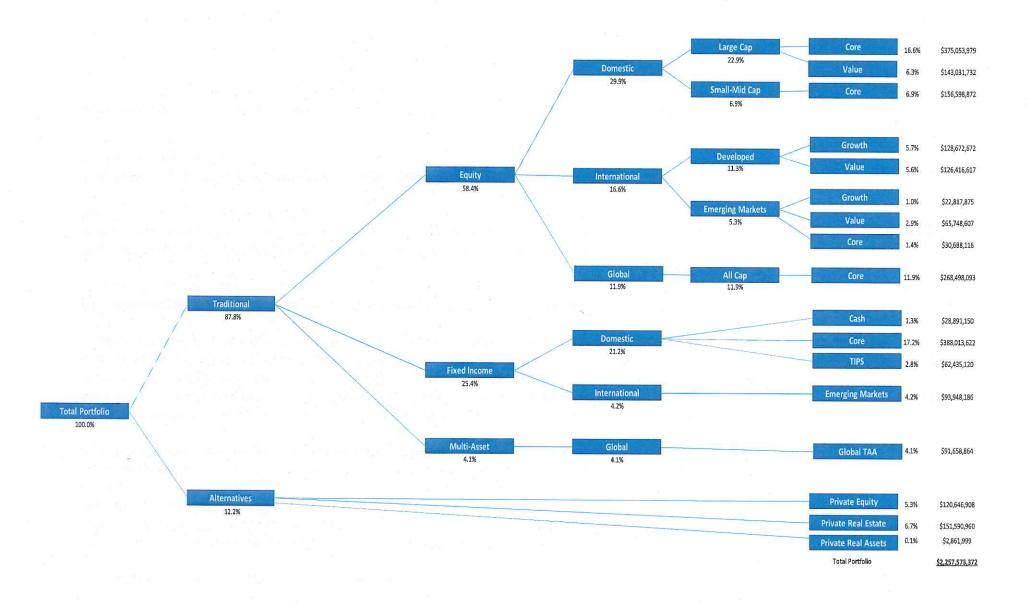

The opinions presented herein represent the good faith views of NEPC as of the date of this presentation and are subject to change at any time. Neither fund performance nor universe rankings contained in this report should be considered a recommendation by NEPC.
